Cost component #3:

Implementation

Software vendors may impose a one-time implementation fee when you purchase their software to set it up and make it operational for your business.